FORMAT & RULEBOOK

Preamble

Cricket is a game that owes much of its unique appeal to the fact that it should be played not only within its laws but also within the spirit of the game. Any action which is seen to abuse this spirit causes injury to the game itself causing further issues. The responsibility for ensuring the spirit of fair play rests with each player playing the game.

Responsibility of captain: It is the responsibility of the captain to ensure that the match is played according to the rules and traditions of the game. The captain is responsible for ensuring that the Spirit of Cricket is always upheld by all players in the team. Umpires' decisions must not be questioned. Opponents must not be abused either by word or action. In such an event, and in the event of any kind of unsporting conduct by members of his team, it is the captain's duty to intervene immediately. In terms of attitude and sportsmanship, the captain must give the best possible example to all his players during the game.

General rules

1. Match balls (Headley) will be provided by the CPCL organizing committee.
2. The team roster can have a max of 25 players for this tournament and a player to be eligible to play in the knockout stage should have played a minimum of 3 games played during the league phase.
3. The last date for adding player to the team roster is June 5th, 2025, 11:59PM. Any request should come before this cutoff date and time. CPCL is allowing 25 players to be added to the roster. There will not be any modifications allowed after the last date, unless there is an extraneous reason (this will be determined by the CPCL Organizing team based on a case-to-case request by the required teams).
4. Once a player has played for a team then he cannot play for any other team during this edition of CPCL Premier. If a player is found to have violated this rule, then the team that used the player will lose 2 points and the player will be prohibited from playing this edition of CPCL. It is the captain's responsibility to ensure that any player he adds to the roster is not part of any other teams' roster.
5. Any player who is in the playing 11 should be part of the team roster before the specific game is played.
6. CPCL consider misrepresentation of players in the playing XI as a very serious offence and if any team is found to have played a game using a player with fake identity, then that game will be forfeited, and the opposite team will be declared winner. The team that used misrepresentation to play the game will be docked 10points.

Rules pertaining to rain interruptions.

League matches.

- Duckworth-Lewis's method will come into effect once the team batting second has completed a minimum of 5 overs. We will be using cricclubs app for DL calculator which all the players can see the calculations while game is going on
- If there is rain after the 5 overs of the chasing innings, the on-field umpires will need to decide on playable/unplayable conditions. Umpires should wait to ensure whether there is at least a 5 over aside match possible, before deciding no more matches can happen during the allotted match time.
- Overall, the effort is to ensure the match happens as much as possible (and it is a 20-20 aside match)

Rules for adding players to playing 11 for rained out games, abandoned games, walk over and teams playing with less than full strength.

1. Rained out game without toss: Teams should submit their playing 11 for such rained out games, and have decided not to reschedule this game, by the following Wednesday 11 59PM CST. For e.g. if teams had their game washed out on weekend of May 4th / 5th. The submission of playing 11 for that game should be done by May 8th 11:59PM CST. This rule will be applicable even if the following weekend happens to be a long weekend and there are no games scheduled.
2. Rained out game after toss and/or after game started: Players selected in the playing 11 for that game will continue to be the same and teams will not be allowed to make an alternate submission unless the game is rescheduled.
3. Games abandoned due to interruption: Players selected in the playing 11 for that game will continue to be the same and teams will not be allowed to make an alternate submission unless it is rescheduled.
4. Walk over games: The team giving walk over cannot include players for that game for counting them against the overall games played. The team receiving walkover can submit their playing 11 by the following Wednesday 11:59PM CST.
5. Teams playing with lesser players: A game can happen if there are minimum of 8 players fielded for the game. However, the team that has played the game with lesser players are prohibited from adding other players to the roster for that game later. The roster shall remain the same for that game.
6. Minimum 3 games rule: A player should have played a minimum of 3 games to qualify for the playoffs and he should have played at least one game, that was not abandoned or interrupted, while other two can be counted from rained out without toss or start or other abandoned games without a start.

Any other Interruptions.

1. In case of any interruptions (like rain, baseball interruptions etc., other than dispute between the teams); if the match is interrupted after 5 overs of chasing team's innings; and the umpires determine that match cannot be continued, we will use Duckworth Lewis method to determine the winner of the match. We would request umpires & the teams to try as much as possible and ensure the match happens rather than resorting to use of Duckworth Lewis.
2. For any interrupted match (due to rain/ baseball interruption), that is played less than 5 overs in second innings, points will be shared between the teams.
3. If the match is incomplete due to a dispute between the teams, organizers will work with the umpires to get the facts and decide best alternate course of actions.

Toss, Minimum players availability, Match innings timing and Umpire availability rules to start game on regular days without rain interruptions at start of game.

- All the time calculated for penalties will have the match start time published in CricClubs as baseline.
- A minimum of 8 players from each team and both the umpires should be present in the ground 10 minutes before the match time. If one of the team does not meet the minimum players availability requirement 10 minutes before the match time, they would lose the toss.
- If umpires are not available 10 minutes before the match time, the captains can go for the toss if both teams have met the minimum player requirements and be ready for the game.
- The team that has umpiring responsibility will have to make sure the umpires are available to start the match at the scheduled start time.
- Both the teams and the umpires will have to ensure to start the game exactly at the match time. The umpires will start reducing one over for every 4 minutes delay to the team which does not meet the minimum player requirement or any reasons that is causing delay beyond the match start time. If both teams fail to meet the minimum player requirement, then the game will reduce from a 20 over game to applicable number of overs depending on when both the teams are 8 in number.
- The game is a total of 180mins. If the last over of the game is not done before this cutoff time, then D/L method will be used to decide the winner. Umpires and the fielding team captain should ensure the game is progressing on time and the fielding team captain and umpires can restrict unnecessary water breaks or any unwanted time delay tactics by the batting team. Umpires should account for scenarios related to any injury or ball lost or ball replacement or scoring /CricClubs issues before deciding to stop the game after the 3hour mark. Therefore, the team fielding first should make sure you finish your innings under 90 mins so that you have 85-90 mins to complete your batting innings.
- Both teams can opt for a break between two innings up to a max period of 10mins.

Eg : Game starts at 8 AM

Toss time 7 50 AM : (team not matching min players count will lose the toss)

Game time 8AM : (Over reduction will start as stated above)

On field umpiring decisions

Umpires are requested to read the CPCL T20 rules and exceptions before standing in as an umpire for the game. There will be two neutral umpires assigned by the CPCL committee for each game. Additional points to be noted.

- Umpires are requested to check your assignment location and teams that you will be officiating on the game day.
- It is a good practice to switch umpiring location after each over to give sense of fairness to the playing teams.
- Any final decision pertaining to caught behind should be ruled by the main umpire standing at the bowler's end. The leg umpire should not decide on caught behind unless the main umpire consults the decision when in doubt. After the consultation the main
 - umpire will make the final decision based on feedback received. The benefit of doubt should always go to the batsman.
- Both the main umpire and leg umpire should abstain from using mobile devices during the game and be ready to make decisions quickly.
- Leg umpiring is also very important especially in providing stumped and run out decisions and therefore should pay equal attention while the game is played.
- The umpires should always be on top of the game and try to manage heated situations between teams and try to deescalate tensions immediately.
- Umpires are empowered to take decisions, in consultations with captain, to remove players who show verbal dissent or through action after the first warning.
- When warning players ensure to warn the player and provide the reason for warning and then inform about the warning to both the captains and reason for warning.
- Umpires, being the custodian of the game, should also restrain from using any foul language or aggressive behavior during the game.
- On appeal by the fielding team, the umpires are empowered to determine whether a bowler chucks (instead of bowling) the ball. Such a delivery will be termed a no-ball. After two such warnings Umpires can determine that the bowler cannot bowl in that match anymore.
- Umpires are encouraged to consult each other before providing a decision in case they are doubtful about a specific appeal. Doing such consultation before deciding will help take into consideration any details necessary in making such decisions rather than go back and forth on their decisions.
- Umpires' decision will be the final decision. While there could be human error at times, both teams are required to respect the umpiring decision in all circumstances. Teams can report any untowardly incident to Organizing committee with details for future reference.

All the rules are as per the ICC code, with the below mentioned exceptions. The latest ICC rules and regulations can be found here. (<https://www.icc-cricket.com/about/the-icc/publications/playing-handbook>)

Specific rules for T 2 0 Cricket can be found here

<https://www.icc-cricket.com/about/the-icc/publications/playing-handbook>)

The exceptions are listed below.

- Batsman cannot be given out for LBW (Leg before Wicket).
- There will not be any runs awarded for leg byes. However, a batsman can be made runout while attempting to score a run of leg byes.
- There will be no overthrow extras allowed for any runout attempt made while batsman tries to score runs of leg bye.
- A free hit will be awarded to a batsman for any no ball called made by the umpire. The fielding team cannot make a field change if the same batsman faces the free hit ball.
- A batsman can be out in a free hit ball only by runout, handling the ball.
- 20 Overs per innings. Each bowler gets to bowl a maximum of 4 overs.
- First four overs will be a mandatory power play. The batting team can take batting power play any time after the first four overs are completed. If the batting power play is not taken until the beginning of 19th over, then the umpire will enforce the batting power play in the 19th and 20th over of the innings.
- A maximum of 2 fielders are allowed during the mandatory power play and once the powerplay is done, the fielding team can have 5 fielders outside the 30-yard circle. A maximum of 3 fielders are allowed by the fielding side during the batting power play. At no point, more than 5 fielders will be allowed to field on the legside. Bowler (when bowling round the wicket against a right-hand batsman will not be counted as a fielder for the above 5 fielder calculation)
- A fielding team should always have:
 - a minimum of 6 players inside the 30yard circle always including the keeper and bowler during all the non-powerplay overs and
 - a minimum of 8 players during the two batting power play overs.
 - a minimum of 9 players during the first four mandatory power play overs.
- League Match playable/unplayable conditions will be determined by the on-field umpires. Unplayable conditions include but not limited to rain, severe cold etc.
- If a match is tied after the regular innings, Points are shared and there is NO SUPER OVER

- Mankading (running out batsman when he is leaving or attempting to make a run at bowlers' crease) is allowed. Umpires should make sure Mankading happens before the bowler completes his bowling action and not after that.
 - At any time from the moment the ball comes into play until the instant when the bowler would normally have been expected to release the ball, the non-striker is liable to be run out if he/she is out of his/her ground. In these circumstances the non-striker will be out run out if he/she is out of his/her ground when his/her wicket is put down by the bowler throwing the ball at the stumps or by the bowler's hand holding the ball, whether the ball is subsequently delivered or not.
 - The instant when the bowler would normally have been expected to release the ball is defined as the moment the bowler's arm reaches the highest point of his/her normal bowling action in the delivery swing.
 - Even if the non-striker had left his/her ground before the instant at which the bowler would normally have been expected to release the ball, once the bowler has reached that point it is no longer possible for the bowler to run out the non-striker under this Law.
- If batsmen get out caught, then the batsman coming in will take strike irrespective of whether the batsman have crossed or not.

Conflict resolution on ground and off ground

The final decision for any conflict on the field is made by Umpires. Umpires have the flexibility to refer the situation to Organizing team for its final decision. The final decision for any conflict out of the field is made by the Organizing team. Decisions made by Organizing team are final and there are no further discussions entertained.

Umpiring responsibility:

All teams share responsibility of performing umpiring duties during the tournament and it is the most important task to have a successful tournament. Umpires will be from non-playing teams in that match. Umpiring schedule is published well in advance. It is the responsibility of the captain to send the umpires from his team for the match as per the schedule. CPCL committee request umpires to plan you day with the assumption that the match will go on at least till noon on matchdays. Umpires are requested to read the CPCL T20 rules and exceptions before standing in as an umpire for the game.

Penalties for missing umpiring duties:

- The umpiring team will lose 1 point if both the umpires don't show up for the game by the Match start time that is scheduled on CricClubs for that match. If one or both the umpires turns up late (after half an hour of game start), they lose additional 1 point and if both umpires don't turn up it will be a 2-point deduction for the first occurrence. So, ensure at least one of the umpires is there for the toss and both umpires are available to start the game.
- If an umpire leaves before the match is over, it will be treated as a missed assignment and same penalties as missed umpiring assignment will be applied.
- The team that has umpiring responsibility will have to make sure the umpires are available on time for the game day.
- There will be a $50 penalty when the first umpiring task is missed along with the 2-point penalty and $80 for subsequent misses with 3-point penalty each time.
- An umpiring assignment is considered completed when both the assigned umpires show up on time and completes the umpiring responsibility. In case of one umpire is a no show then 50% of the total penalty (points and fine) will be enforced.

Umpiring work for Rescheduled games

This is still voluntary, and we will let teams decide whether they can make it to those matches at revised date/timing.

Scoring

It is the responsibility of playing captains to arrange for recording live scoring in CricClubs app. However, captains should plan for a temporary manual score sheets in case CricClubs app does not respond momentarily due to technical issues.

Net Run rate Calculation.

1. A team's net run rate is calculated by deducting from the average runs per over scored by that team during the matches they have played in this edition of CPCL, the average runs per over scored against that team within this CPCL edition.
2. In the event of a team being all out in less than its full quota of overs, the calculation of its net run rate shall be based on the full quota of overs to which it would have been entitled and not on the number of overs in which the team was dismissed.

Chuckling or Throwing:

As with other illegal deliveries such as underarm bowling, a throw shall be called as a no ball by the umpires. In general, the umpire standing at the batsman's end will have a better view of the delivery and the onus is, therefore, on this official to call and signal the no ball. However, the law states that either umpire can call a no ball if they are satisfied that the delivery has been thrown. The human eye can only detect a throw if the bowler exceeds the 15-degree mark, and anything less is not detectable to the naked eye.

To keep it simple for umpires, if you see and can notice the chucking (That is, once the bowler arm has reached the level of shoulder when ready to deliver the bowl the elbow cannot be straightened from that point until the ball has left the hand), it is only because the bowler has flexion of elbow more than 15 degrees or else it is hard to notice. Either umpire can call a no-ball for chucking.

ICC law

For those that like to look things up, Law 21.2 is the relevant ruling in this case. It states that the elbow must not be partially or completely straightened until the ball has been delivered. The law does make allowance for flex of the wrist.

Penalties and warning

One run will be added to the batting team's score and that delivery must be bowled again. A no ball for throwing will also result in the next delivery being a free hit.

After calling a no ball for chucking on first instance, the umpire will have to officially warn the bowler for chucking, update the fielding team captain immediately. If the bowler is called for chucking again by either of the umpires, he will be not allowed to ball again in the match and the captain of the fielding team will have to use another bowler to complete the over.

Calling No-Ball:

A no-ball is an illegitimate delivery in cricket. The ball will have to be delivered again to have a complete over of six legitimate deliveries. When a no-ball is delivered, the bowling team is penalized with one run and the next ball is a free-hit for the batsman.

Different Ways a No-Ball be Delivered:

The below list are the most common ways in which a delivery may be called a no-ball in a cricket match:

- The most common type of no-ball happens when the bowler oversteps the popping crease. The bowler must have some part of his foot behind the popping crease at the time of delivering the ball.
- A no-ball may be called if the bowler's back foot is on or outside the return crease. The bowler's back foot must remain within the return crease at the point of delivery.
- A ball delivered underarm is called a no-ball unless there is a prior agreement between the teams allowing such deliveries.
- A ball delivered with the wrong arm is a no-ball if the bowler has failed to notify the umpire before changing the bowling arm. The player must also notify the umpire about which side of the wicket he plans to bowl from.
- A full toss above waist height (beamer) will be considered a no-ball.
- A bouncer that goes over the head of the batsman is considered a no-ball. The umpire may also call a no-ball if the bowler bowls a bouncer that the umpire considers dangerous and unfair.
- If any fielder encroaches the pitch before the ball reaches the batsman, the umpire is likely to call a no-ball. This would include a wicketkeeper, whose body (any part of it) encroaches the area in front of the wicket before the ball hits the bat or passes the batsman. If the fielding side violates any fielding restriction at the time of delivery, the ball will be considered a no-ball. An example of such fielding restriction is placing two fielders behind square or exceeding the permissible number of fielders outside the inner circle in a limited-overs game.
- A "throw" ball is a no-ball. If at the point of delivery, the bowler bends his elbow by more than 15 degrees, the delivery is considered a no-ball.
- If the bowler breaks the stumps at the runner's end during his delivery stride, the umpire will call a no- ball.
- If a ball delivered by a bowler bounces more than once on its way to the batsman, it will be called a no-ball.

The main umpire always has the right to overrule any no ball decision after discussing with the leg umpire. Especially in scenarios (5) and (6). The main umpire can gather input from the leg umpire for any decision, but the final say on any decisions during the game rests with the main umpire with exception to (8). Either umpire can call a no-ball for chucking.

Injury & Accident Waiver and Release of Liability Form

Every player must assume his own responsibility for any injury or accident that happens to him per the 'Injury & Accident Waiver and Release of Liability Form' shared with team captains. CPCL Organizing team asks all captains to make sure that they share this form with all players in the team squad, get signed (manual) copy of this form from all players in the team squad and share scanned copies (in case of manual signatures) of the same with CPCL Organizing team before the player plays their first game in CPCL. It is captain's responsibility to communicate and get signed copies to CPCL Organizing team before their first game. Under any circumstances, CPCL Organizing team or Park Districts (Ground Owners) or Sponsors are not responsible for players' injuries, accidents etc.
